Introduction

Creative tourism development is one of the regional government's efforts to improve the brand image of a region (Tahir et al., 2023). Creative tourism in Indonesia is spread throughout almost all regions of the archipelago. Every region that has creative tourism will definitely develop rapidly, both economically and improving the region's brand image. An area full of attractions does not directly become a tourist destination, it requires a kind of creativity that is deliberately designed for the community to enjoy socialization events and gathering centers supported by access for UMKM to improve the brand image of the place.

South Tangerang City is an area resulting from the expansion of Tangerang Regency, where South Tangerang City is the second largest city in Banten Province and the fifth largest in the Jabodetabekjur area in terms of population. The City of South Tangerang was established through Law 51/2008 concerning the Establishment of the City of South Tangerang in Banten Province as of November 26, 2008, which aims to improve services in the fields of development, government and society as well as providing capabilities in utilizing regional potential. Most of the population of South Tangerang belongs to the productive age group, however South Tangerang has an urban character with dynamic community activities. The area and population of Tangerang must be addressed by increasing government supervision through the establishment of the City of South Tangerang, in this way strengthening public services and accelerating the achievement of public interests (Azmi & Djunaedi, 2022).

In various literature it has been proven that community participation in tourism development is beneficial in terms of sustainability and effectiveness of development policies that will be taken in the future (Lamberti et al., 2011).

South Tangerang City is a city that was only founded in 2008, which is a division of Tangerang Regency. A city needs an identity so that it is easily recognized by people and becomes a characteristic of the city (Priyanda et al., 2023).

Pamulang is the place where the first South Tangerang City government center was established. Before South Tangerang City became an autonomous city, Pamulang was one of the sub-districts of Tangerang Regency. Previously, Pamulang was part of Ciputat District. Pamulang District was a division of Ciputat District in 1993 according to PP no. 3 of 1992. The first Pamulang District Head was Drs. H. Moch Natsir. S. This city, which directly borders DKI Jakarta, has also experienced progress and achievements in various fields (Budiyanto & Effendy, 2020).

As the government center of the city of South Tangerang, Pamulang is expected to continue to develop and have a brand image that can benefit the wider community. Kotler & Keller (2013) reveal that brand image is the perception of a brand as described by the brand associations that exist in consumers' minds. A good perception or image of a person's mind towards a brand can occur if the message delivered in an advertisement has the right strategy. Creative tourism is understood as a brand image that aims for self-development, is not mass in nature, accommodates the existence of medium and small businesses, provides space for interaction in the community and gives respect to the environment. So that people or visitors coming to an area can learn about the architecture of buildings and interesting areas (Sudirah & Febriani, 2020).

One of the creative tourist attractions that can be used to improve the brand image of the South Tangerang city area is Pamulang Square. The construction of Pamulang Square, which is located right in front of the Pamulang District Office and the Pamulang Grand Mosque, which has an area of 5,800 square meters, was presented to provide a new public space for the people of South Tangerang, especially Pamulang residents. These open space facilities can be a place for gathering, socializing and playing for local residents and can be used for community purposes to create a brand image in the South Tangerang area, especially in the Pamulang District.

The decentralization policy in Indonesia has now fully provided legitimacy and a legal umbrella for each region to design and make policies that suit regional needs in order to explore and develop all the potential that the region has, including the potential in the tourism sector (Fanaqi et al., 2020). Brand Image according to Kotler & Keller (2013:3) is the consumer’s response to a brand which is based on the good and bad of the brand that consumers remember. At a broader community level, creative tourism initiatives can inspire new ideas and avenues of activity and contribute to cultural vitality and potential regeneration dynamics through reinforcing distinctive elements of local identity, instigating flows and connections between the locale and the external, and serving as platforms for local collaboration, exchange, and development (Duxbury et al., 2021).

The background to this problem attracted researchers to conduct more in-depth research on strategies and creativity in creative tourism through the Pamulang Square to improve the brand image in the Pamulang area, South Tangerang City with the title: South Tangerang City Strategy in Improving Brand Image through the Pamulang Square as Creative Tourism. the scope, position and results of the research will later be explained in depth using the data that has been researched. Previously, the descriptive method also attempted to describe several existing concepts, because descriptive research did not aim to draw out something that caused a phenomenon or social situation that occurred where the researcher described or constructed in-depth interviews with research subjects.
